

Observe the figure above. It is the specific absence of a square. You can see the square quite clearly, but it is a virtual square. It is specifically not there. Although the square is itself composed of the background color, it is brighter than the background color. In fact it is brighter than if it were a real square. It is defined by that which is specifically not it. In the path of Evolution the Relationship of Relationship is Location, Time and Space as specifics. Location is 2, the Moon, the Specific Absence where existence in Space and activity in Time can occur. As Location locates Location, the Location of Location is...

